The Rise of Test Automation

How to Unify Testing Reporting across a Multi-Tool Stack

With test planning, design, execution and reporting split across multiple tools, software delivery leaders have lost visibility into coverage, quality and cost

QA Leadership Has Unanswered Questions

How quickly are defects being resolved?
How many tests have been executed and passed?
How many requirements were covered?
Are we ready to release?
How many blocking defects remain?

Integration Restores Visibility

Freedom to modernize with test automation, without losing visibility into coverage, quality and cost

All-inclusive reporting
Useing the familiar and preferred ALM reporting and dashboards for multi-source data

No more waiting
Get near real-time reports. Eliminate manual synchronizationdata manipulation

Tasktop Hub

Tasktop supports software delivery organizations as they evolve their test management practices and tools, by creating a seamless user experience, centralizing data for cross-tool reporting and restoring visibility and control over product quality.
